

Grammar-Mania!

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the Parts of Speech Webquest ! This is an opportunity for you to review what you know and have learned in the past on the parts of speech, and hopefully have a little fun!

Words are everywhere. We use them everyday and it is important that we know how to use them correctly. The parts of speech are essential building blocks of the English language. Each part has its own function and importance in the English grammar.

TASK:

Your goal with this webquest is to create a "cheat sheet" for yourself that contains the main aspects about the eight parts of speech in English (Noun, Verb, Adjective, Adverb, Pronoun, Preposition, Conjunction and Interjection). This webquest also allows you to strengthen your technology skills, exercise your creativity, practice your research skills, appreciate the complexity of the English language, experience the fun of language, and visit resource sites to discriminate between different parts of speech.

THE PROCESS

1. Using Google Docs, elaborate a table like the one presented below:

PART OF SPEECH	FUNCTION	EXAMPLE WORDS	EXAMPLE SENTENCE
NOUNS
PRONOUNS
VERBS
ADJECTIVES
ADVERBS
PREPOSITIONS
INTERJECTIONS
CONJUNCTIONS

2. Then, using the sites shown below (you may not need them all, feel free to jump around the list), complete your table with the requested information.

3. Finally, attach your document to google classroom for grading.

RESOURCES

Parts of Speech - blogspot with links on right side

Parts of Speech - from Yahoo!igans

Parts of Speech (Grammar Gorillas) - note the help definitions given.

Parts of Speech (HarcourtSchool) - multimedia grammar glossary; find the part of speech you'd like defined in the list at the left, then click it.

EVALUATION

Your Webquest will be graded using the following criteria:

Punctuality	20%
Design	20%
Content	60%

CONCLUSION

Well done! You have completed the Parts of Speech Webquest! But remember, no matter how much you learn, there is still so much more to know!

Always keep in mind, that learning never stops!